

When Grandpa Comes to Dinner

Surprise him with a sparkling new dinner suite.

Dinner furniture is getting back to the old simple substantial lines your grandfather learned to love.

It will put you all in a mental mood for the celebration of a real Thanksgiving.

Your Thanksgiving will begin with the economy of this beautiful furniture. The factory from which it is bought specializes on period furniture, and by making great quantities reduces cost.

You get the benefit. Don't wait therefore with your old worn-out table. Begin the new year with Thanksgiving.

Are You Looking for a Rug?

Thanksgiving and holidays bring home the children and company for meals. You want to fix over the house a bit, so it will make an impression. You want to take the parlor rug which is beginning to wear and put it upstairs. Then put a new one on the parlor floor.

Of course, you've been undecided because of price, but that's especially why we're addressing this to you. To reduce our rug stock in time for holidays, we're making unusual reductions on twenty-five excellent rugs. Some of them have the finest color combinations we ever showed.

Two especially can hardly be distinguished from genuine orientals in the rich soft tones. You will do well to investigate this rug sale and make a big money saving.

Roscoe Melver, who passed the weekend at his home in Graniteville, was a visitor in the city to-day while on his way to Burlington to resume his studies at the University of Vermont.

Miss E. A. Lee, who has been spending several weeks with relatives in Barre Town since coming to Vermont from her Nova Scotia home, left the city this morning for Boston, where she expects to spend the winter.

Col. H. T. Johnson, who attended the annual meeting of the Vermont commandery, Military Order of Foreign Wars, Friday evening, visited friends in the city Saturday, leaving in the evening for his home in Bradford.

Waning hope of a passable sidewalk on Wellington street before snow flies was revived Saturday when a gang of men in the employment of the street department began to dig a trench for the curbing that will skirt the walk when it is completed.

The snow came this morning, but there are plenty of indications that work on the sidewalk will not be permitted to lag in the coming fortnight or three weeks.

A. J. Stewart of Park street received a telegram yesterday advising him of the death of his brother, Neil Stewart, a resident of Galson, P. Q., which occurred Sunday morning. The message was barren of particulars, although it is supposed that Mr. Stewart's death occurred suddenly, as he was in his usual good health at last accounts.

His brother left the city early last evening for Galson to attend the funeral.

Walter R. Munroe of Keith avenue, who is taking a 10 days' vacation from his duties in Miers' uptown barber shop, left this morning for Stowe, where he will be in camp with a party of deer hunters in Smugglers' Notch for a week.

Willis F. Scott of Pearl street is taking his annual vacation from the Depot square shop and left this morning for his former home in Brandon. Before the hunters departed they promised a venison barbecue for the barbers' union should either or both succeed in bringing down a deer.

Alexander Ross of Franklin street and George Rock of East Barre left the city this morning for Bellows Falls, where, as officers of the state council, Improved Order of Red Men, they will pay an official visit to the local tribe of the order.

Accompanied by Mr. Rock, Mr. Ross, who is the great sennap of the order in Vermont, will make a number of visits in southern Vermont before returning to Barre. From Bellows Falls they will go to Chester and thence to Springfield and Brattleboro, visiting Windsor on the return trip. They expect to be absent nearly a week.

Defeated but not disheartened, Spaulding's football team and a cheering contingent that made itself heard in the Railroad city, returned Saturday evening from St. Albans, where the high school eleven of that city counted out one of the two Washington county contenders for state interscholastic honors by the score of 27 to 6.

The Spaulding boys had nothing but words of praise for the treatment accorded them on the playing field and were unanimous in their belief that the better team won. St. Albans presented a well-rounded football aggregation. The winning team is said to be out for a game with Montpelier high.

Any and all records ever made by Iroquois tribe, No. 16, I. O. R. M., and the associate organization, Winnetka council, No. 10, Degree of Pocahontas, in the several years that they have held joint fairs were completely shattered by the team which the two orders closed in Howland hall Saturday evening.

Returns from all sources indicate that the proceeds were greater than in any previous year and the aggregate attendance for the three nights was also a record breaker. In the afternoon the women of Winnetka council served tea to a large number of visitors. In the evening, the men repeated their presentation of "The Case Against Casey," by request. All participants in the mock trial acquitted themselves creditably and their efforts were loudly applauded. Amusements of the prize winners in several contests were made and dancing was enjoyed until midnight.

John A. Gordon, son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Gordon of Richardson street, who entered upon his first year at Dartmouth college, Hanover, N. H., early in the fall, is one of 22 Dartmouth freshmen to be awarded football numerals as a result of the victory of Dartmouth 19 over Dean academy.

Young Gordon joined the freshman squad soon after his arrival at Hanover. His playing attracted the attention of the class coaches and almost from the outset he was regarded as a fixture in the class team. Those who are interested in Dartmouth's football destinies believe that Gordon will be a member of the varsity team before he ends his college career.

Although handicapped by his lightness, he has remarkable speed, unlimited pluck, his friends say, and versatility. He plays an end position. Young Mr. Gordon played consistently for Spaulding during three years of his high school course.

Visitors in the city through the week-end included the following people: Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. McNeil, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Lewis, Miss Florence Reed and A. E. Lewis of Lacombe, N. H. Mr. and Mrs. D. L. McQuinn, Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Sanders and Miss Dora Sanders of Hardwick, A. B. Weston, W. S. Hewitt, F. L. Dana and C. F. Chapman of Woodsville, N. H., who were motor arrivals at Hotel Barre.

M. B. Rose of Burlington, D. S. Hazen of Windsor, A. K. Ladd, A. F. Trask, T. M. McIntyre and John McIntyre of Lacombe, N. H. R. J. Smith of Lelley, N. Y., L. F. Mrs. James Smith of Salisbury, N. C., arrived in the city Saturday for an extended visit with relatives. Mrs. Smith is a former resident of Barre, having made her home on Maple avenue for a number of years.

The attention of the members of the Barre Women's club is called to the vocal recital to be given by Miss Lillian K. Morse of Goddard seminary faculty in Howland hall Tuesday evening, Nov. 16, at 8 o'clock. Notice is called to the change of time.

On Tuesday evening, Nov. 16, at 7:30 o'clock, all streets in the city will lead to the Hedding church, where the men of the church most cordially invite everybody in the city to a pleasant evening, when President Reeves of Norwich university will give an interesting talk. Come and bring your friends.

One of the most interesting bazaars, and for a good cause, will take place in Howland hall Nov. 19 and 20. An excellent program has been arranged for the occasion, and the committee will spare no labor or expense to make the bazaar a success. Carroll's orchestra will furnish music.

Invitations have been issued for the second of a series of dances to be given by the recently organized Italian Gaiety club in the Knights of Columbus hall Wednesday evening. The affair will take the form of a masquerade, the dancers having the privilege of unmasking at intermission. Carroll's orchestra will play for the dancing.

Old timers had the center of the stage in city court this forenoon as the result of transgressions committed on the threshold of the week-end. Jack Turner, better known as the Green Mountain scout, who trokked into Barre last week after one of his frequent shank's mare excursions through the hills of Vermont, pleaded guilty to a subsequent offense and arranged for a transfer of his baggage to the county jail when it transpired that the judge has assessed him a fine of $15 and costs of $5.35.

Also, Turner refused to disclose satisfactorily. His recalcitrant attitude was presently assumed by Reuben Clough of Washington, who pleaded guilty to a subsequent offense and took the jail sentence instead of paying a $15 fine and costs of $5.35.

Clough and the scout were arrested Saturday night by Officer John W. Dineen and Chief Sinclair.
